Group Votes Extra Cash For Defense

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (U)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved every penny of the $1,260,000,000 in extra cash requested by President Eisenhower to speed up the defense effort.

It went him one better by boosting from 110 to 150 million dollars the authority he asked to shift funds from one program to another within the Pentagon to exploit any unforeseen breakthroughs.

The extra 40 million dollars goes to the Army, for development of the Army missiles Pershing, Lance, Little John and Sergeant. This will come out of surplus Army funds in other accounts, which otherwise could not have been spent. The administration had asked no funds for the Army.

The committee termed the amounts sought by the administration "minimal" and "conservative" when compared to missile program needs. It said the Defense Department probably will ask later for a second similar emergency appropriation.

Speed Many Programs

The committee went on to say that while money in large enough amounts is "indispensable," money is not the only answer. It called on Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy to act to cut "administrative red tape" in the Pentagon.

The committee-approved bill is expected to win top-heavy approval by the House later this week. A bill providing necessary authority to spend the funds already has been passed by the House and is before the Senate.

Plan Billboard to Welcome Autoists

The Harrisburg Lions club Monday evening voted to co-operate with other civic clubs in sponsoring a billboard welcoming motorists to Harrisburg.

The billboard would be approximately 20 feet long and 12 feet high and would include emblems of the Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and Jaycees. The proposition is for a three-year period.

The Lions also voted to purchase trophies for the championship teams in the three leagues of the church-sponsored basketball program.

There will be no Monday night meeting of the Lions next week as the club will join with other clubs on Tuesday evening in a meeting with the Saline County Soil District at the high school, starting at 6:30.

Klan Men Indicted After Riot

LUMBERTON, N. C. (U)—A Ku Klux Klan wizard and a follower who took part in a Klan rally that was routed by Indian gunfire face trial on charges of inciting a riot.

Wizard James W. Cole, a part-time minister of Marion, S. C., and James Garland Martin, Draper, N. C., were indicted by a Robeson County Grand Jury Monday. They were accused of sparking the riot that occurred Saturday night at Maxton, N. C., when Klansmen gathered to burn a cross in an effort to discourage mingling of Indians and whites. The Indians broke up the meeting with gunfire.

Sheriff Malcolm McLeod said he had asked Cole by telephone to appear here today to post bond of $1,000. He said Cole planned to confer first with a lawyer, but he expected Cole to show up.

Cole said it was the Indians, not he, who violated the law, and he threatened to file suit against McLeod on charges of failing to protect the Klansmen's "constitutional rights."

Segregationists Push Ousting Of School Men

Follows Finding of Dynamite, Believed Relatively Harmless

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U)—Little Rock school officials today faced renewed demands by segregationists for their resignations because a dynamite stick was found in integrated Central High School.

The dynamite, which had neither fuse nor cap and was believed to be relatively harmless, was discovered in a vacant locker.

The Central High Mothers' League demanded the resignations of Central High Principal Jess W. Matthews and Assistant Principals Mrs. Elizabeth Huckaby and J. O. Powell.

The Capitol Citizens' Council also called for the three and School Supt. Virgil T. Blossom and the entire school board to resign.

Blossom said the dynamite planting "appears to be part of a campaign by a few people to force the closing of Central High School."

The Rev. Wesley Pruden, pastor of the Broadmoor Baptist Church and president of the Citizens' Council, denied there is any movement to force the closing of the school.

"Closing the schools is not the remedy," he said. "I would recommend rather that Virgil T. Blossom and the whole Blossom-dominated school board resign."

The Rev. Mr. Pruden said Blossom has "surrendered completely" to integration.

Fuentes Wins But May Lose Out as Guatemala Chief

GUATEMALA CITY (U)—Rightist Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes was certified the winner of Sunday's election today, but his margin of victory was too narrow to insure his installation as president.

Because none of the five candidates for president received a clear majority of the votes cast, Congress will have to choose between Ydigoras and leftist candidate Mario Mendez Montenegro, who ran second.

Congress is dominated by supporters of government candidate Jose L. Cruz Salazar, who was nosed out by Mendez, and it appeared possible that the legislature might try to get Cruz back in the running.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the Moore & Son Mortuary, 333 West Adams street, in Phoenix.

Eisenhower Upholds Party in Country's Defense Program

Saline Tourist Group Elects Gidcumb Head

Accomplishments Of Shawnee Hills Reviewed at Meet

Wayne Gidcumb was elected president of the Saline County chapter of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association at a meeting held Sunday.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Pat Collins; secretary, Paul Hatfield; treasurer, Don Scott; board member, John Foster.

During the program Dr. James W. Lee, assisted by J. L. Neshiem, both of the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Co., showed color maps and charts to illustrate their description of the interesting geological features of this area.

The very unusual action in the earth formation has resulted in the production of aluminum and jet fuel for rockets, among many uses, they pointed out.

Achievements for Year

Achievements reported the past year included:

Sites for highway markers and picnic tables in each of the six counties of the SHRA have been forwarded to the highway division. Members expressed appreciation for signs pointing the way along the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail and the road to the Garden of the Gods.

Each of the six counties published maps as brochures to show tourist attractions. An attractive letterhead was promoted by George M. Scherrer, Shawneetown, 1957 president.

Top men in their field from Washington and Springfield addressed the regular monthly meetings and as a result the association has been assured of federal cooperation in making surveys of this area for recreational development.

Attractive bumper signs designed by the late Senator Glen O. Jones aroused favorable comment throughout the country.

Plans were discussed for a less expensive card that could be put in the rear window of cars.

One resolution resulted in plans for the State Geological Survey to publish a booklet of geological tourist attractions of the area, which should be ready for distribution by April. Another booklet on Indian and archaeological attractions is being considered by Southern Illinois University.

Shows Enlarged Pictures

Bill Farley displayed enlarged pictures up to three by four feet and showed samples of Kodachrome scenic postal cards that could be produced from good four by five color transparencies.

Treasurer Don Scott reported good response to letters inviting renewal of memberships and disclosed a balance of $167.50 in the county treasury.

The new vice president of SHRA, Louis Aaron, was in charge of refreshments. Appreciation was expressed to Lowden Pankey for the fine cakes he has prepared for the Shawnee Hills Recreation association and for sponsoring the Pankey Bros. TV programs on Shawnee Hills attractions.

Killed Self by Accident, Jury Verdict in Death Of Hunter, Dale Keith

An inquest into the death of Dale Keith, 20, was conducted Monday evening by County Coroner James Thornton and the jury's verdict was that the young man came to his death as the result of a shotgun blast accidentally self-inflicted.

Young Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Keith of Stonefort Route 2, died almost instantly Thursday afternoon of a shotgun wound suffered while rabbit hunting in the Battleford bottoms six miles south of Harrisburg.

Hunting with him were his brother "Bud" and Frank Ewell. Testimony was that Dale's gun was accidentally fired as he was carrying it, the blast causing his death.

Entertaining Speaker, J. E. Stanford, To Be Here for Annual Soils Meeting

J. E. Stanford, director of public relations of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Saline County Soil Conservation district to be held at the Harrisburg Township high school the evening of January 28, beginning with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Mr. Stanford will be remembered in Saline by those who were present at the district annual meeting held at Carrier Mills in 1954 at which time he delivered one of the most entertaining speeches that has been heard here in some time. Each year since that meeting there has been a number of people interested in having him return.

Mr. Stanford has been connected with the Kentucky Farm Bureau for 15 years. For 12 years of this time he held the position of executive secretary. During the last three he has been in his present position. For seven years prior to his Farm Bureau work he was editor of the Southern Agriculturist, one of the larger farm magazines of the south. During this time he spoke before gatherings of farm and urban people in almost every state of the south.

For three years before becoming editor of the Southern Agriculturist he was agricultural director for the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. His broad field of experience coupled with a sound philosophy of life and his ability to use humorous stories to illustrate the points he is presenting makes him a most interesting and entertaining speaker.

The dinner will be served by the

Labor After Substantial Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON (U)—Organized labor will seek "substantial" wage boosts this year despite President Eisenhower's plea for wage restraint, union spokesmen said today.

Industry spokesmen made it equally plain they can — or will — do little to carry out the Chief Executive's request to hold the line on prices.

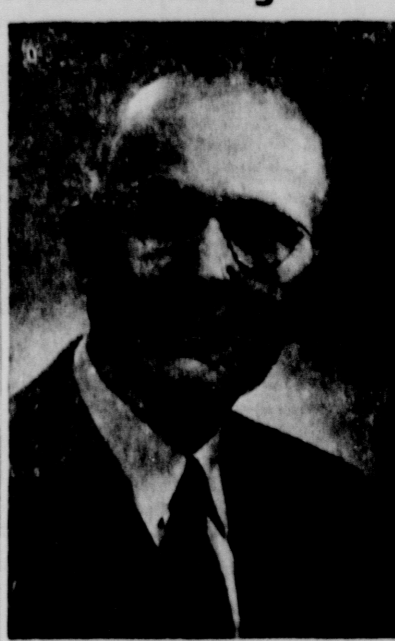

The government prepared to report today that the cost of living has reached another all-time high. Its retail price index has marched steadily upward in all but one of the past 21 months. At latest report it was 3.3 per cent above a year ago and six per cent over February, 1956.

Union economists cited the rising prices as a major reason they want wage boosts. They said a three per cent hike is needed just to "stand still."

Labor officials also said the biggest worry now is not inflation but depression. Pointing to unemployment nearing the four million mark, they said wage hikes will pump money into consumer pockets and spur lagging production.

The International Assn. of Machinists, key union in the aviation and missile industry, has set 26 cents-an-hour increases as its goal.

Walter P. Reuther's United Auto Workers will demand substantial wage hikes and a profit-sharing plan.

Garner, Jess Rister and Harmon Bramlett.

The Kiwanis club of Harrisburg is sponsoring the meeting this year and the club is handling ticket distribution in Harrisburg.

Tickets should be secured by the end of the day, Jan. 24.

Directors and associate directors will be elected to the board at this meeting. A report of the accomplishments of the district in 1957 will be given. An accounting of funds received and expended will also be made by the board.

The county winner of the Soil Conservation Essay contest and the first place winner of each of the high schools will be guests of the district. Ralph Gass Jr., author of the county winning essay, will appear on the program.

Ike Calls for Bipartisanship In Such Matters

President Heads Speakers at 44 Fund Dinners

By RICHARD A. MONTABA
United Press Staff Correspondent

Republicans opened their 1958 campaign to capture control of Congress by blaming Democrats for the missiles lag and for past wars despite an appeal by the President for bipartisanship in defense matters.

Democratic leaders countered by accusing the Republicans of being "two-faced" and of dredging up "stale" charges.

President Eisenhower led the list of Republican leaders who spoke at 44 fund-raising dinners around the nation Monday night to kick off this year's GOP campaign.

In his talk, the President advised his fellow Republicans against making national security and peace "partisan or political" issues.

No Chess Pawn

"Americans must never and will never let the issue of security and peace become a pawn in anyone's political chess game," the President said.

The President fired the opening gun of this year's GOP congressional campaign before 5,408 Republicans gathered here for a nationally televised $100-a-plate dinner speech.

The President told his fellow Republicans to fight Democrats for control of Congress this fall by standing "proudly and erectly" on the record of his administration.

Modernization Necessary

Eisenhower drew a rousing cheer when he said "a prompt and effective modernization of our Defense Department is necessary."

He then departed from his prepared text to add:

"In this, I intend to participate personally until the job is done."

Presidential press secretary James G. Hagerly said he expects the President to send to Congress soon his plans for reorganizing the Defense Department.

The President's address in the flag-draped, spotlighted International Amphitheater celebrated the fifth anniversary of his inauguration. And the scene was at times as loud and uproarious as the GOP convention of 1952 when Eisenhower was nominated at the amphitheater for his first presidential campaign.

The President appeared on radio and television along with a number of other speakers, including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who spoke from New York, and GOP National Chairman Meade ALCORN, who spoke from the Amphitheater here, working from a teleprompter.

Injects Fighting Phrases

The President's prepared text was a rather soft-pedaled political call to battle. But he departed from the text frequently to inject fighting phrases into his remarks.

As he delivered the speech, he added a long interpolation attacking those who would picture America as weak in an era of Russian scientific and weapons advances.

"Don't pay any attention to the pessimists—those people who, for reasons of their own, contend that

"What Happened to the Fellow Who Was Going to Carry It?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
As Ike Begins His 6th Year
As President He Will Reminisce About The Golden Past;
He May Conclude That A General's Life Is Easier Than A Politician's; Ike's Score-Card Of 1952 Vs. 1958 Makes Interesting Reading.

WASHINGTON. — Dwight D.
Eisenhower, as he looks back over his five years in the White House, will probably remember a lot of things. He will remember, among others, those golden days in the Fall of 1952 when he was campaigning for President.
Those were beautiful autumn days. His train rolled through the corn fields of Iowa, the newly planted wheat fields of Minnesota, the prairies of Kansas. The crowds were jubilant. Mamie was pretty. General Eisenhower was at his best, vigorous, smiling, persuasive.

I watched him as he hammered at "Communism, Korea, and Corruption." Day after day he called the roll of Democratic mistakes, unfolded a glowing list of sincere Republican promises.
The General will doubtless remember those halcyon days of the "Great Crusade" as he begins his sixth year in the White House; and he may also recall some of the promises he made as he travelled across the nation.
In remembering them, he may even philosophize that the career of soldier is easier than that of politician.

Remembering them as a newspaperman, I thumbed through the speeches made in that golden autumn of 1952 to see how near he had come to fulfilling them. And because there must be a scorecard on government as well as football, here is the Eisenhower score-card of 1952 compared with 1958:

IKE'S SCORE-CARD

1. BUDGET DEFICITS — "We will stop wild spending of your money and prevent these recurring national deficits from putting the pressure on your money to go down and down." — Wilmington, Del., Oct. 17, '52. (Inflation has gone up and up, the value of money has gone down and down.)

2. FARM PRICES — "The Republican party is pledged to the sustaining of the 90 per cent parity price support and it is pledged even more than that to help the farmer obtain his full parity, 100 per cent parity, with the guarantee in the price supports of 90." — Brookings, S. D., Oct.
4 '52. (Last week Eisenhower sent a message to Congress urging that farm price supports be reduced to 60 per cent.)

3. FAMILY FARM — "I am for programs to put a firm foundation under farm prosperity and to strengthen the family farm as the mainstay of our agricultural production." — Columbia, S. C., Sept. 30, '52. (Secretary Benson now advocates the end of the family farm.)

4. MILITARY DEFENSE —
"We shall review our entire preparedness program and we shall strip it clean of waste, lack of coordination, inertia, and conflict between the services." — The Republican platform. (Recent developments speak for themselves.)

5. UNEMPLOYMENT — "Never again must the crime of mass unemployment be visited upon our people." — Worcester, Mass., Oct. 20, '52. (Unemployment is now approaching 4,000,000.)

6. BUSINESS EXPANSION —
"We shall encourage venture capital investment at home and abroad. We shall support a foreign investment policy that encourages growth throughout the free world." — Peoria, Ill., Oct.
2 '52. (We are still using foreign and government loans to support foreign economies.)

7. EDUCATION — "In this critical problem of adequate education, we must now undertake to help needy states build schools."
to help needy states build schools."
— Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 9, '52.
(No school construction bill has passed in five years. Last summer, the White House did not even make one phone call to Congress to urge passage.)

8. HOUSING — "We must have better housing for those Americans who are now forced to live in slums and substandard dwellings and blighted neighborhoods." — Pittsburgh, Oct. 27, '52. (Last year Ike criticized Congress for passing a $177,000,000 urban renewal-slum clearance housing program.)

9. INFLATION — "We are committed to stabilize money and to quit living off the piggy banks of our children and the IOU's of our grandchildren." — Tulsa, Oct. 13, '52. (Last week Ike announced that he favored deficit spending.)

10. TAX REDUCTION — "The people who pay the taxes will know where we are going. They will know that we are on our way toward a balanced budget, toward reduction in the national debt, toward lower taxes." — St. Louis, Sept. 20, '52. (Taxes have not been lowered, the President indicates the budget will not be balanced, and there is to be an increase in the national debt.)

11. RECLAMATION — "In the development of water storage basins for reclamation of the lands of the great west, I shall recommend that the Congress make available public money for the construction of such projects wherever needed." — Nov. 1, '52. (Hell's Canyon, the biggest water storage basin in the USA, was vetoed by the White House, and great pressure was put on Congress to defeat it.)

12. SMALL BUSINESS — "Whatever I can do to further the cause of small business and provide a diversified industry in all small business, I shall do." — Manchester, N. H., Oct. 21, '52. (Small business bankruptcies reached an all-time record last year.)

13. SECRECY IN GOVERN-MENT — "The facts must be given to the American people; they must know our aims, the reasons for them, and the cost of attaining them." — Indianapolis, Sept. 9, '52.
(The American Society of Newspaper Editors believes that secrecy in government has increased.)

Maybe the party managers took Ike up on the mountaintop. Maybe they told him the job of being president was too easy. Or maybe he just promised too much.

LITTLE LIZ

A drip never makes much of a splash.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Giving a concert without knowing anything about music would be rather stupid. Trying to fly an airplane without some lessons and some experience would be foolhardy. Attempting to swim the English Channel without ever being in the water would be impossible. Many tasks and procedures require study, practice and broad experience.

One cannot expect to understand God without the experience of living His way day by day. Each day of trying to do God's will makes the next day easier. Constant experience coupled with study make understanding more clear.

The only way to know what religion is and does for people is to begin to live it all the time. We become disciples of what we live.

We Still Like What Grandpa Ate

CHICAGO — Americans have a yen for the cuts and varieties of meat that their grandfathers preferred.

An American Meat Institute study of the geography of meat has its shows that regional traditions play a vital role in the marketing pattern of beef cattle, hogs and lambs.

Some of our meat-eating habits go back to colonial days, the institute said, and "all the whoo-to-do of quick-freezing, rail and air transits and four-color food pages in the magazines have failed to change them much."

For instance, the southerner loves his jowl-meat, pungent breakfast bacon and long-cured hickory smoked ham. The northerner has a yen for fresh ham, pork chops, loin roasts, spare ribs and link sausage.

North of the Mason-Dixon Line, fresh pork is in demand. South of it, modern Johnny Rebs want smoked pork.

The New Englander wants the heaviest steer beevies produced, the AMI said, and wants them "ripe" from a 20 to 60-day cure in the cooler.

The best market for cold cuts is in an area that stretches from eastern Pennsylvania to Milwaukee, Wis. A ring bologna belt extends from Oklahoma City, Okla., to Detroit, Mich.

More than half of all lamb produced in the United States is consumed in the New York City area, the AMI reported, and the families of New Orleans, La., eat five times as much veal as those of dairy-rich Wisconsin.

Miss Virginia Harre, Dale Tanner Married in Swedesboro, N. J.

Miss Virginia Harre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harre Sr., 117 East avenue, Swedesboro, N. J., and Dale Tanner, son of Mrs. Charlie Curtner and the late J. C. Tanner, Stonefort, were married in Bethesda Methodist church, Swedesboro, N. J., at 2:30 p. m. January 4. Rev. Carlton Nelson performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the families and friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore an original design floor length wedding gown of white bow-knot lace over tulle and taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice of the lace, featuring a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves, pointed at the hands. The bouffant skirt, worn over a hoop, had a fingertip length over-skirt of lace. The V-waistline accented the fullness of the double skirts of tulle, net and taffeta. Her chapel length veil of silk illusion was secured to a crown of individually crocheted rosettes. She carried an arrangement of white poinsettias and hemlock.

Mrs. Eileen Harre Sell, Laysburg, Pa., served as her matron of honor and wore a floor-length gown over hoops, of holly-green taffeta, styled with a white velvet drape at the neckline and shoulders. Her headress was of white velvet accented with net. She carried a bouquet of red poinsettias and hemlock tied with red satin ribbon.

Miss Janice Baker, Swedesboro, N. J.; Miss Shirley Jenkins, Clarksboro, N. J.; and Miss Susan Hardy, Jonesboro, Ind., were the bridesmaids and they wore identical floor length gowns similar in design to that of the matron of honor. The dresses were of poinsettia red taffeta with matching velvet drapery at the neckline and shoulder. Their headresses were of red velvet trimmed with net and they wore short white gloves. Their flowers were red poinsettias and hemlock.

Ralph Harre Sr., Fayetteville, Pa., acted as best man for the bridegroom.

The flower girl, Miss Deborah Harre of Fayetteville, Pa., wore a short sleeved red dress frosted in white and complemented with a peter-pan collar edged in white lace. Her sash was of white velvet as was her headress and she carried a basket of white chrysanthemums.

The ringbearer was Master Terry DeVanit of Mickleton, N. J.

Ushers were Daniel Curtner, brother of the bridegroom, who served as junior usher, James Harre Jr., Swedesboro, N. J., and Junior Sell, Fayetteville, Pa.

There was a reception immediately following the wedding in the social room of the church.

Kroger Celebrates 75th Birthday with Building Program in Tri-State Area

The 75th Birthday celebration of the nation's third leading food chain will be kicked off in the Tri-State area with an expanded stores building and improvement program, according to Warren L. Engle, vice president of the Carbonale Division of the Kroger Co. The retail food firm, founded in 1883, will complete 75 years of operation during 1958.

The Carbonale Division plans to build five to seven supermarkets in 1958, Mr. Engle said, in addition to remodeling of approximately two stores to provide better and more convenient service.

This continues a building program which got under way during 1957 with completion of three large markets.

Remodeling plans reflect changing consumer tastes, Mr. Engle said. In some cases, he pointed out, entire walls of stores will be removed to allow the store to be enlarged, aisles widened, and departments lengthened to accommodate increased business. In others, the problem has been parking and additional land has been acquired to add to parking lot size. With more cars on the road each year, sufficient parking close to the store is one of the most important conveniences offered to customers, Mr. Engle said, explaining that without adequate parking, a modern supermarket literally cannot operate.

Frozen food departments, too, reflect changing eating trends, Mr. Engle said. Many stores which a few years ago considered the space

Women Fatter, But It's Outside

COLUMBUS, Ohio—(UP)—Men are fatter, but on them it looks good.

This is one finding of a scientific study made by Dr. Stanley M. Garn, associate professor of anthropology at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Dr. Garn based his conclusions on a study of 81 men, age 40, and 107 women, age 39. He concluded that men have more fat in their heads than women.

Another weighty conclusion the doctor reached in his survey is that women are 41 per cent fatter than men. Nearly one-fourth of female weight is fat. With men, fat accounts for about one-sixth of the total weight.

"It's obvious women have more outer fat," Dr. Garn pointed out. "This you can see. It makes life more interesting."

On the other hand, the "inner fat" that can't be seen on men may be shortening their lives and endangering their health.

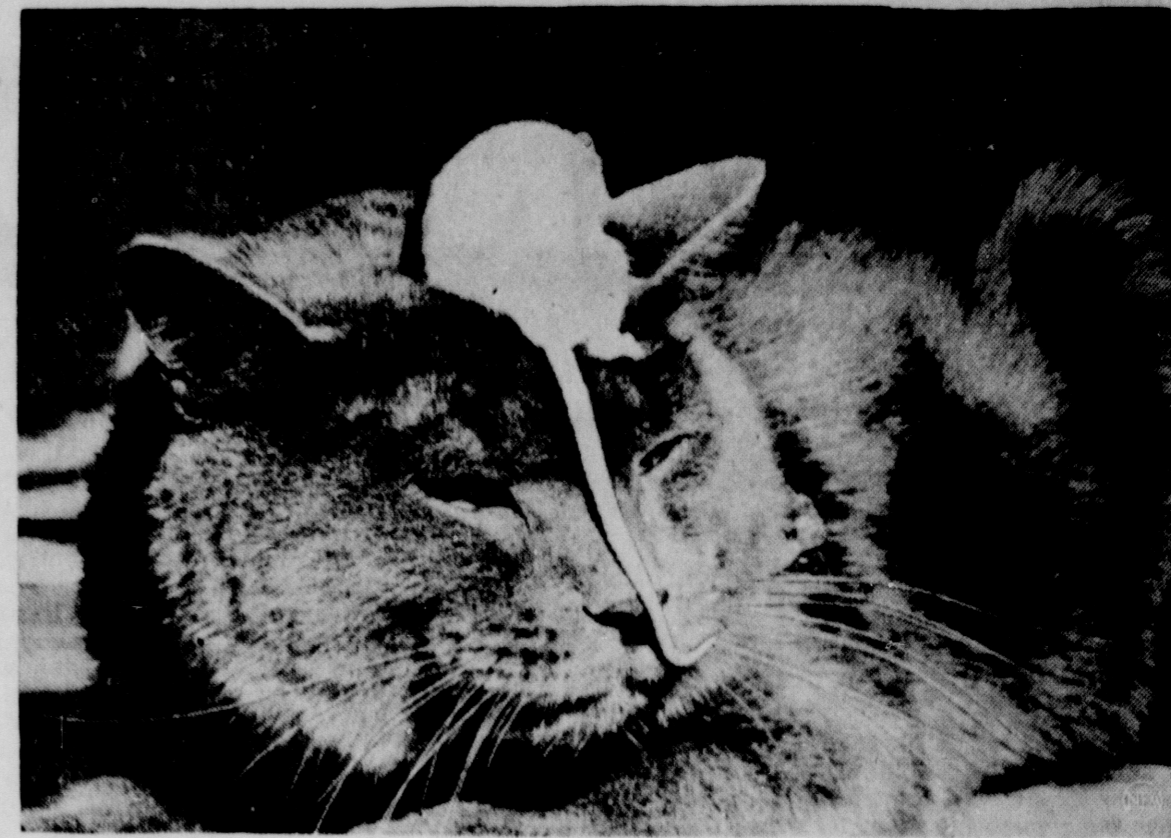

"Women are like polar bears," Garn said. "They have an outer fat which serves as insulation."

Then he theorized that it may be that fat on women—on the outside and at a lower temperature—increases their life span.

Garn's study was part of a continuing research project on fat, its effect on metabolism and growth.

His "guinea pigs" in the experiment were from the southern Ohio area.

For women who want to lose some of their fat, Dr. Garn's advice is not to lose too much weight at once. A rapid initial loss of weight won't bring desired contour changes.

WHAT'S THIS?—Apparently unaware of the old cat and mouse theory, Prince Mickey, a Russian Blue shorthair cat, and Mousie, a mouse, play together in New York. Both owned by Mrs. Evelyn Adams, they were "caught" in this new cat and mouse game during a preview of the 41st Annual Empire Cat Show.

I seem to see in the soft dim light, their faces we loved the best, and think of them when the sun's last rays

Go down in the faroff west.
We miss them as much as time goes on.
As we did the days of their going for absence can never close the door of our hearts.
As the lamps of our hearts are still glowing.

Your hearts were the truest in all the wide world,
Your love the best to recall.
For no one on earth can take your places.

You are still the dearest of all.

NOT FOR SALE—Handmade and prized beyond price is this tiny race car, the work of Phillip Miller, left, and William Geyer, of Upper Arlington, Ohio, a suburb of Columbus. It is a gleaming two-thirds size copy of the most dazzling of early European grand prix racing cars—the Type 35 Bu- gatti. From horseshoe-shaped grill to the tip of its boat-tail, it accurately duplicates an automobile produced by Ettore Bugatti, an Italian who produced about 9,500 of the world's finest cars in France. Miller, a Bugatti fan, and Geyer, a car-loving machinist, spent two years of evenings, Saturdays and Sundays on the project. Miller has shown the car at sports car races, where it has never failed to draw a crowd of admirers. But the Miller-Geyer Bugatti is not for sale—on any terms.

HAND-PICKED for MURDER

By Robert Martin

Chief of Police Orville Campbell came in and stood by my bed, his hat in his hand. The coldness was gone from his eyes and his lean face was haggard. He gazed down at me soberly, his thin lips set in a tight line. "How're you feeling, Bennett?"

"Good, Chief—thanks to you. The nurse told me how you stopped the blood with your shirt."

"I was afraid I wouldn't get you here in time."

"Thanks again."

"Bennett, I should have noticed that Howell had changed his shirt. My eyes aren't so good any

Matter of FACT

The earliest known system of laws, formed about 1700 B.C. by Hammurabi, King of Babylon, was a code (a complete list of laws) defining personal rights, property rights, contracts, etc. During the 12th century A.D., a body of laws called the common law grew up from the decisions of the English king's court. These decisions were based on reason or the application of reason to custom. Our present American laws are based, at least in part, on this English system of common law.

Flag Makers Not Perturbed Over Possibility of Two More States

WASHINGTON — If and when Alaska and Hawaii are admitted to the Union as the 49th and 50th states, American flags with 48 stars will be as outdated as last year's calendar, but flag makers expect still to be able to sell them.

Louis R. Kengla, Washington representative of the Detra Flag Co. of Oaks, Pa., said the 48-star flags would be valuable as "collectors items" after the territories were granted statehood. He said his company gets calls even for 13-star flags for such events as the Jamestown Festival and for movies and plays.

Thomas Glasscock, foreman at the Burton Flag Company here, said he believes the government would give the flag makers a "few years" to get rid of their outdated Old Glories.

"It wouldn't be fair to announce a new flag overnight," he said. Glasscock believes the government would permit the "optional" display of either the new or old flag for a certain period.

Wilbur McBride, Washington artist who said he designed Ecuador's flag, pointed out that there is still a demand for Confederate flags nearly 100 years after the Confederacy fell. Forty-eight star flags "will easily be sold as souvenirs," he said.

Nevertheless, Kengla said his company is "mighty scared" to keep a large inventory of American flags, especially when Congress seems close to granting Alaska and Hawaii statehood. The Senate is expected to consider statehood for the territories next January.

No plans for a 49 or 50-star flag have been made, according to the Army's heraldic branch which designs most military and civilian flags for the government. But about 200 or 300 suggested designs have been submitted by "everyone from college professors to school children," an Army spokesman said.

Among the suggestions are designs arranging the stars in the shape of "U. S.," a rocket, and "50."

An 1818 law set the basic flag design of 13 red and white stripes with a white star for each state in a field of blue. At that time there were 20 states. The bill also provided that a new star would be added to the flag on the July 4 after each new state was admitted to the Union.

The last states to enter the Union were New Mexico and Arizona in 1912. Previously there were four rows with eight stars and two rows with seven stars for the 46 states.

A commission headed by Spanish-American War hero Admiral Dewey recommended the present arrangement of six rows of eight stars.

Several bills calling for seven rows of seven stars or five rows of 10 stars on the flag in case Alaska and Hawaii achieve statehood have died in Congress.

KING OF IRELAND?—Shown above is Ireland's royal family that is, if a group of Irish monarchists have their way. Lord Inchiquin, his wife and their daughter, Grania, relax with the family pet in their home, Dromoland Castle in County Clare. A direct descendant of Ireland's greatest king, Brian Boru, who reigned from 1002-1014, Lord Inchiquin is known as O'Brien of the O'Briens. If the Irish Royalists should succeed in reestablishing the monarchy, Lord Inchiquin would be the first Irish king since the 12th century.

Is your pay all you have to live on?

A paycheck is a very fine thing, no doubt about it. But it does have disadvantages. Unless you have a job — no paycheck. And you can't always say, "I'll take a slightly bigger check this time."

But now turn your thoughts to another kind of check — a dividend check on common stock. When you own common stock your dollars work for you. You are part-owner of a company. As an owner, you can share in profits through dividends.

Dividend checks give you extra income from sources other than your job. Income that may continue throughout your lifetime. Income that may grow if the company prospers and grows.

This is how you go about getting extra income from dividend checks:

1. You can begin modestly. Two out of three shareholders have family incomes under $7500 a year. Many are buying stock for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month — on our convenient Monthly Investment Plan.

2. You start sensibly. For investment you use only money left over after living expenses and emergencies are provided for. And then before you invest a penny, get the facts. Never depend on tips or rumors. Stock prices go up and down. A company may not pay a dividend, may not prosper. So you'll want to select one that you think will thrive.

3. And now for some useful information. More than 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange have paid dividends every year from 25 to 109 years. We've put their records in a fascinating booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." It shows which pay 5 to 6 percent at recent prices, which are the favorites of large financial investors. It describes the Monthly Investment Plan. The coupon below will bring it to you free.

4. Finally, make a helpful friend. Drop in to get acquainted with a nearby broker — making sure he's with a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You'll get a cordial welcome. And much useful information, at no cost. He'll help you invest wisely — perhaps recommending bonds as better suited for you than stocks. He'll help you buy or sell. And from time to time be sure to ask him to review your holdings with you. Ask him for a free copy of "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." Or whip out a pencil and send the coupon. Isn't it time you stopped looking to your paycheck for all your income?

AMERICA'S CHOICE IN CALENDAR ART—How would you pick the favorite 1958 calendar subjects hanging from countless thousands of walls in factories, offices, stores and homes? From sales figures reported by Shaw-Barton, one of the country's leading calendar manufacturers, these five were among the top choices. The National 4-H Club calendar picture (second from left) proved to be most popular. "Bright Eyes," the baby, finished eighth in the nation. The western out-rigger "A Busy Line," the erstwhile brunette in the comfortable pose, and the appealing puppies.

It was the first such group to be released in years although West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has asked their return in correspondence with Premier Niko-lai Bulganin.

The group includes physicists and a number of rocket specialists who were assigned to the Soviet laboratories at Sukhumi on the Black Sea. A total of 54 persons including women and children is involved.

America is fearful, America is weak.

"Let's throw back our shoulders and stand proudly erect," he continued. "Let's thrust out our chins and say: America is strong and will grow ever stronger as long as there is any danger of attack upon us or our allies."

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, accused the administration of presenting a "wholly inadequate" budget to meet the new Soviet challenges.

Speaking at a news conference in Washington, Acheson also criticized the President for failing to follow up on his recommendation for reorganizing the Defense Department. He said the present departmental set-up is "completely futile."

Charles points to the miniature rockets he and his fellow workers used in their science fiction film. Paper-mache Mars and painted space complete the backdrop for the youthful "producer," who is now planning to enlarge his five-man staff to film a new movie entitled "Invaders From Outer Space." From script writing to completion, "Rocket to Mars" took more than six months for Charles and his friends. Charles shot the movie in color on 8mm film. Then he recorded background music and sound effects and synchronized them with the action in the film.

Snowstorm Goes East

By United Press

A widespread snowstorm, making up in size what it lacked in punch, moved bulkily eastward today and promised more trouble in the hard-hit North Atlantic states.

Few points east of the Continental Divide escaped the turbulent storm, the Midwest's worst of the season, as it dumped foot-high snows in Lebanon, Kan., and turned highways into death traps with rainy downpours in the Southeast.

At least 14 weather-caused deaths were tallied around the nation as a result of traffic accidents and frigid temperatures. In West Finley, Pa., a mother and four of her children were killed when gas room heaters consumed all the oxygen in their sealed two-story home, creating deadly carbon monoxide.

Charges Reports Mislead on Miles Of National Road

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Albert Gore charged the administration today with using "misleading figures" in its progress reports on the national highway system.

The Tennessee Democrat, chairman of a Senate subcommittee in investigating the highway program, referred to Bureau of Public Roads monthly reports on the number of miles completed on the interstate highway.

The figures, Gore said, "don't refer to miles of completed highway at all." He said they are so called "project miles, instead of facility miles."

Gore said while the figures "appear to indicate" a "substantial amount of mileage has been completed" they are actually "highly misleading."

Gore said he would ask the bureau at his roads subcommittee hearing today to make public the actual number of miles of highway completed and available for use by the public.

The annexation followed an attempt to integrate Negro and white schools at Colp.

Pettit-Russell Feud Renews in Pro Cage All-Star Game Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Russell and Bob Pettit renew their duel between the National Basketball Assn.'s two best big men tonight and coaches Red Auerbach and Alex Hannum resume a personal feud in the league's annual East-West All-Star game.

Auerbach's East team, with a superior overall scoring average of about 10 points in regular season competition, was a three-point favorite for the eighth annual pro basketball classic. A crowd of 15,000 was expected to pack the St. Louis Arena for the game.

Although each team presents 10 of the outstanding stars in the pro league, much attention will be centered on the match-up between Russell, the Boston Celtic's six-foot-10 defensive marvel, and Pettit, the St. Louis Hawks' six-foot-nine shooting wizard who has a 25-point scoring average.

Captain Jack

Kentpoos, the Modoc, was known to white settlers in Oregon as Captain Jack. His desperate band raided, murdered and plundered but there were many who said that the white men drove him to these acts of violence. Against this background of terror, people built homes, young folks fell in love, and civilization grew. For a heart-warming story of frontier life, read

As Critic Ewald Sees It:

Steve Allen Was Fair Fun, Bob Hope, Shore Show Entertaining

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Steve Allen took his NBC-TV show Sunday night to Havana, Cuba, home of rum, rhumba and roulette. It's a city dedicated to the proposition that you can't take it with you, so you might as well leave it with us.

Cuba, of course, has had the World Series beamed to it and I seem to recall "Wide World" negotiating a rather dismal pickup from the island a couple of seasons back. The Allen show was a step forward technically if not artistically. The picture was steady and pretty sharp. However, the audio suffered from a strange huff at times, almost as if Ed Sullivan might have been breathing heavily into the microphones.

Only Fair Fun

The show itself was only fair fun. Its principal features were Edgar Bergen and Lou Costello in limp routines and Mamie Van Doren in a tight dress. Miss Van Doren (no relation to Charles and built better anyway) sang "Sand in My Shoes" and then jumped into the pool as a snapper, inappropriate perhaps, but titillating.

Much of the show unfortunately was devoted to extolling the virtues of the hotel from which the telecast originated. It was, I admit, pretty sumptuous.

Steve Lawrence, a very knowledgeable singer, changed a peripatetic version of "Begin the Beguine," starting in the bar, wandering through the gaming room, lobby, patio and ending out by poolside, a distance roughly comparable to that between Boston and Salt Lake City. I'm not sure, but I thought I caught a jai-alai game going on in one of the broom closets. One of the smaller broom closets.

Hope Travels for Show

Bob Hope also did some traveling for his special NBC-TV show last Friday. It was an hour brewed out of films taken during the Christmas season while Hope and a troupe were entertaining troops in the Pacific arena.

It was a typical Hope show, heavy on local allusions, topical one-liners and television-type sex.

The troops seemed to be entertained normously and so was I. Hope is a funny man just to look at. He breathes funniness and often, as a result, his audience is so caught up it laughs in advance of his punchlines.

The Hope show featured Erin O'Brien, Jerry Colonna and Hedda Hopper. Also on hand was a blonde called Jayne Hargitay, an actress unfamiliar to me. The troops seemed to enjoy her dramatic talents. At least I think it was her dramatic talents that caught their interest.

Shore Hour Pleasant

Dinah Shore didn't travel. She spent her second consecutive Sunday in New York for NBC-TV and turned out one of the most pleasant hours of the week-end.

The Shore show is slick. It has bounce, verve, enthusiasm. It's only fault is that it sometimes has too much enthusiasm. A kind of calculated, week-after-week attempt to prove that this is a fun show, darn it.

Sunday night's was a fun show though, darn it. Ethel Merman, a lady with the frank, open face of a gingerbread man, who sings with cowbell clearness, engaged in a togetherness musical bit with Miss Shore that contrasted their loud-and-clear and soft-and-dusky styles. It was a gasser.

Cyril Ritchard also was on hand. And he can be on hand in my home anytime.

The channel swim: CBS-TV will go in more heavily for specs next season. It is reserving the right to pre-empt any regular show at least twice next semester, a policy which NBC-TV already has in force.

Gene Barry landed the title role in "Bat Masterson," a new western series that ZIV, an independent outfit, will soon start shooting for airing this fall. NBC-TV's "Queen for a Day" will move to St. Paul, Minn., for five telecasts next week.

The Rev. Sidney Lanier, an Episcopal minister who is enrolled at Actors Studio, will host a special series dealing with Broadway and religion on CBS-TV's "Look

Up and Live" beginning Jan. 26.

Sid Caesar borrowed one of his old writers, Larry Gelbart, from the ABC-TV "Patrice Munsel" show until his chief writer, Mel Tolkin, returns. Tolkin is out on a pre-Broadway tour with his play, "Maybe Tuesday."

Message of Doom

MANSFIELD, La. (UP)—Mrs. Howard Averitt sent an emergency message Monday to her husband at the factory where he worked, police reported. When Averitt, 35, appeared at the factory gate, police said, his wife killed him with a blast from a shotgun.

Chiang Kai-shek has been president of Nationalist China since Oct. 10, 1928.

Warning on Chemicals Given by General

NEW YORK (UP)—The Army's chief chemical officer warned Monday of possible Soviet developments in chemical, biological or radiological warfare comparable to the Sputnik. The officer, Maj. Gen. William M. Creasy, said the United States must be alert to "the fact that the hazards in the field of chemical, biological and radiological warfare can be as great and as far-reaching in their effects upon our ability to survive and defend ourselves as those in atomic warfare."

Only 38 per cent of college graduates go to work in fields they majored in, outside of professional school alumni.

THIS is Texas Eastern

Just eleven years ago Texas Eastern took its first step as a fledgling corporation. Its immediate goal: the purchase and conversion of the war-built Big Inch and Little Big Inch pipelines to the transmission of natural gas.

Since February, 1947, Texas Eastern's interests in the petroleum industry have been greatly broadened and expanded. Today, Texas Eastern

- explores for, produces, purchases, processes and transports natural gas...
- explores for, produces and refines crude oil...
- transports petroleum products.

Texas Eastern's natural gas pipeline system—now 5900 miles long—spans 14 states between Mexico and the Northeast. Its pipelines, which supply natural gas used in millions of homes and thousands of factories, have a combined capacity of more than 1.7 billion cubic feet per day.

Texas Eastern's newly created "Little Big Inch Division" will soon be operating a 1700-mile petroleum products pipeline system. This new system—one of the nation's largest common carriers of petroleum products—links the refineries of the Gulf Coast, Ark-La-Tex and Mid-Continent areas with major marketing areas of the Midwest.

The Company's Production Division and its recently-acquired subsidiary, La Gloria Oil and Gas Company, are exploring for oil and gas in a half dozen states. They have interests in over 600 producing oil and gas wells... and in thousands of acres of proved and semi-proved oil and gas areas.

Through La Gloria's ultramodern Tyler, Texas refinery, Texas Eastern is engaged in custom refining of aviation and automotive gasoline. La Gloria's giant gas cycling plant at Falfurrias, Texas, further adds to Texas Eastern's diversification.

Through a company affiliate, Algonquin Gas Transmission Company, gas from the Texas Eastern system is sold in large areas of southern New England and as far north as Boston.

These operations have made Texas Eastern a truly versatile company, broadening its service to consumers of oil and gas as well as to the people who produce and process them.
